ARCHIVES COLLECTION INTERN

The Historical Society of Harford County, Inc. Archives Department accepts documents and photographs ranging from the very personal (diaries, letters, postcards, invitations) to the nationally important (the Bush Declaration, the Booth collection). Currently there are more than 25 boxes of documents waiting accessioning. The successful applicant(s) would review, catalog, index, in some cases digitize or repair and store these documents and photographs according to accepted preservation standards. This is time consuming, sometimes tedious work, but can lead to major discoveries and provides a unique glimpse into the personal and professional lives of some of our leading citizens.

For more information, please contact the Historical Society of Harford County, Inc. at 410-838-7691 or submit questions to Jacob Bensen (adm@harfordhistory.org). This is an unpaid internship. However, the society offers flexible work hours and an internship designed to match your interests and skills while providing valuable work experience and contacts.

The Historical Society of Harford County Inc., founded in 1885, collects and preserves the documents, photographs and unique materials that tell the story of the people and events that form the history of the county and its citizens. These stories are shared in many ways through events, publications and research assistance. This is a major undertaking, but extremely worthwhile and rewarding
